DRIVER INSTALLATION

The Quad 4K Universal Display Adapter is based on Silicon Motion technology which manages the graphic function. It requires downloading and installing Silicon Motion driver to make it work, found here:
way 1: www.wavlink.com>SUPPORT>Driver and search UG7702H way 2: https://www.wavlink.com/en_us/WL-UG7702H way 3: https://www.siliconmotion.com/downloads/SM770-drivers.html

About driver installation steps and other functions or operations, please scan the QR code on the cover for the detailed guide.

FAQ

Q1. Why when I install the app for my Macbook, the App want to record my screen?
A1: Mac OS requires the user to permit "Screen Recording" for Silicon Motion driver to work properly. But the Silicon Motion will not send any information to the WAVLINK and the Silicon Motion. Please do not worry about that.

Q2: Why the apple tv, hulu, netflix could not play when the docking is connected?
A2: The adapter could not support hdcp, the protected content such as apple tv, hulu, netflix could not play when the docking is connected. And it is as expected. Please disconnect the docking when you are playing these video. Or you could also try to use the Chrome browser to watch these video and disable the Hardware Acceleration.
